Get a Trial Bottle To-day You don't have to wait all day to get the kink out of a stiff neck if you rub on Nerviline. And you don't neck to go around complaining about lum bago any more. You can rub such things away very quickly with Nervi line. It's the grandest liniment, the guickest to penetrate, the specifiest to ease muscular pain of any kind. One twenty-five cent trial bottle of Nerviline will cure any attack of lum bago on lame back. This has been proved a thousand times, Just as it was in the case of Mrg. E. J. Grayden, of Caledonia, who writes: 'T wouldn't think of going to bed without knowing we had Nerviline in the house. UNDER royal patronage, and with the full sanction of the Imperial government, the official moving picture records of Britain at war are to be shown in the Royal Victoria all next week. The management in presenting these pictures believes that they form the most illuminating proof of national earnestness in a cause that was ever produced. They show Britain is in this war to win. and that she is throwing the whole strength of not only her magnificent and predominating fleet into the scale, but also the available manhood of the British Isles for the army, and, in the industrial organization that supplements the military operations-the available womanhood also, for these pictures include the great arsenals and munitions factories where thousands of women and girls are at work. They give an insight right into the heart of Britain aroused for war.

"BRITAIN PREPARED" records the facts in pictures that the censorship refused to reveal in words. It shows what Britain is doing, and seeing is more convincing than any written cable dispatches. These pictures furnish their own proof. Britain is performing a stu-pendous task, and engaged with all her might. The work of raising, equipping and training Kitchener's army was not done in a day. These pictures show it in all its details in an hour, and leave no room for doubt as to Britain's intentions. She means to win this war. Four million men are in training or at the front. The pictures show how the raw recruit is transformed-hundreds of thousands of them-into an efficient modern soldier. It shows the great transformation Lloyd George has evoked in the munition factories where thousands of women are help-ing to make shells and equipment.

BUT it is by the Grand Fleet of the High Seas that the greatest work of Britain has been done-that vast machine which has policed the world for a century, and which is even now blockading Europe in behalf of the Allies, and slowly but surely choking Germany's insane ambition to break the barriers and defy all laws, human and Divine, in the lust for power and world domin-ance. The pictures of the fleetmoving pictures, as clear as though the beholder were himself on a war vessel in the North Sea-show what heretofore has been left to faith and imagination, the awe-inspiring might of Britain. With the assistance and co-operation of the Admiralty, the pictures the management will show at the Royal Victoria, Monday June 5, were taken to supply a fitting answer to the query: "Is Britain answer to the query: Prepared ?"

And even in regard to Mr. Macdonaid, whom all professed to have observed with the vigilance of a sleuth during the passing glimpses they got of him, they could not say, what style of clothes he had on, what was the color of Mrs. Macdonaid's gown, what sort of hat he went out in when they say he went out or whether when they say he went out, or whether he had on an overcoat or not. Two of the witnesses gave testimony before the Vancouver election commit-tee, the Plantas, father and son. They were quite positive as to what was said and done five and one-half weeks ago, but were not able to recall what they said before the committee three weeks ago. Mr. Planta contradicted N.

The British battle-cruiser Indefatigable, one of the three lost in the fight on May 31. She was completed in 1911 and had a displacement of 18.750 tons, being 580 feet long, with a beam of 7936 feet and a draught of 2736 feet. She was armed with eight 12-inch guns and sixteen 4-inch guns, and was fitted with three torpedo tubes. Her designed speed was 25 knots but she had attained 26.7 knots an hour. The battle-cruiser New Zealand is a sister-ship.

Victoria Boy Tells of His Experiences "Somewhere in Belgium"

A Victorian who left here with the 30th Battalion, writing from "Somewhere in Belgium," gives an interest count of the doing on that part of the front. The writer, who was wounded at Festubert, has been in the trenches since December 6, with the 15th Battallon. His letter is in part as follows:

We have now got the kilts back as follows: "We have now got the kilts back, Davison tartan. Wouldn't I like to be swanking down Yates street and into the fibrary. We are out for our regu-lar few days from the tranches. Fritz got something to keep him busy and to keep him thinking for a while. "About your paper cutting What it geis like facing death,' welj I could write quite a bit about it and yet I am not quite sure what to say on the subject. I have seen some strange cases of baid and good luck. A set-reant in this battalion went out at daybreak to the German lines and brought in a wounded officier. The sregeant is a small fellow. He was recommended for the V. C. and when we moved to our present part of the line he was wounded and we got the news that he has lost both legs, one arm and an eye. Another chap some time back got wounded in the head and we thought be wouldn't live till he got to the dressing station. But he is in hospital and getting along fine. Amother fellow got a billet through the front of his steel helmet." The builet went right up the inside of his hel-met and came out of the back and went right up the inside of his hel met and came out of the back and didn't touch him. Who would want a nearer, scrape than that? An un-pleasant sensation is being in a trench that is mined and you are just waiting to go up any minute and yet the mine might not be sprung for months." which was amidship HIGHLANDERS MAY Continuing the letter a few days Continuing the letter a few days later the writer says: "We are in brigade reserve now, and a little mearer the line. Of course there are the usual working parties from here. We walk to our work but when we were back farther we took the busses. One night I climbed on top of course and wanted to get down in a hurry when we got in a dangerous part, a shell landed about 30 feet from us, but lucklip it was a wooden one (didn't Report That Seaforths Will Have-Ouarters at Willows luckily it was a wooden one (didn' explode.) He admits that the idea has been advanced in yiew of the fact that the 231st has only view of the fact that the 231st has only half of its strength secured and re-cruiting would be facilitated if the bat. tailon was mobilized on the coast. No change, however, has been made in the original directions respecting the 231st.

Only Thirty Men Needed; Will Leave Within Two Weeks for the East

That the British Columbia Company f the 196th, Western Universities Battalion, stationed at Vancouver, is practically up to strength and will be leaving within a couple of weeks for the mobilization centre at Sewell, was the statement this morning of Lieut, E. C.

Sheppard, of the 196th Battalion, who is spending the week-end in Victoria,

All have read the names of the winners of Cash Prizes this week, and from the long list it is very evident that no one should let any time go by without preparing for the NABOB GIRL. The only condition attached to the receiving of NABOB real money is that you have the goods in your house as outlined in our offer.

We have very much hope that no one will be in any way discouraged by these criticisms. On the contrary, they should act as a spur towards greater efficiency all round, and after all, nothing can be more harmful than un-merited praise. nerited praise. Mr. MacBrady, who was Mr. He-

MR. HULBERT'S BIBLE.

To the Editor. My stiention has been drawn to a communication from H Hulbert which appeared in a recent issue of your paper and in which sev-eral ministers of the Gospei are chal-lenged by name to justify their atti-tude on probibilion in the face of cor-tan teachings of the Bible which he construes.

I may remind. Mr. 1 may remind Mr. Hulbert of, the saying of Abraham Lincoin when he was told by a certain Christian min-ister that the Bible justified and au-thorized the holding of slaves. Mr. Lincoin's reply on that occasion was, "So much the worse for your Bible;" He saw that a Bible which authorized levers: the pinicenth century would He saw that a Bible which authorized slavery in the ninteenth century would be repudiated by ethe moral sense of that age. So also there are people who can read into the Scriptures justifica-tion for the modern drinking vice, just as the followers of Joseph Smith, and read in it vindication of the teachings of Mormonism. But the enlightened moral sense of this age would repudi-ate such a Bible. Some of us who have given careful study to the Scriptures, both in the original languages and the vernacular, fail to find there any justi-fication of the beverage use of intoxi-ricating drinks. The great mass of reverent students of the Scriptures in

Because this German concern was not closed down at the beginning of the war, has been the cause of severe criticism on the part of the public and the press throughout England, as it was a well known fact that this business was owned by Germans and worked with German capital.

We have received the following letter from His Majesty's Board of Trade in London, dated May 16, 1916:

"I am directed by the Compiroller of the Companies De-partment to inform you that the Board of Trade on the 10th of May, made an order under Section 1 of the Trading With the Enemy Act, 1916, requiring the business of A. Wulfing & Co. to be wound up. I am to add that the firm are the proprietors of 'Sanatogen' and of the factory at Penzance."

The winding-up of this German firm closes the door of the Canadian market to the German product "Sanatogen" which enjoyed such an extensive sale previous to the war, and means

AMERICAN NEUTRALITY LAWS TO BE CHANGED Washington, June 3.—A general re-vision of the American neutrality laws was proposed to congress to-day in a memorandum submitted by Attorney memorandum submitted by Attorney General Gregory and concurred in by the state department as a result of the government's experience with prob-lems arising out of the war and of re-lations with Mexico. Enactment of eighteen new laws is recommended to correct defects in ex-isting statutes, to cover present omis-sions of law "for the observance of ob-lications imperatively imposed by insions of law for the observance of ob-ligations imperatively imposed by in-ternational law upon the United States," and to make crimes against American neutrality punishable under the federal laws. Which is British throughout in origin, proprietorship and manufacture, being made from the same identical formula as Sanatogen, will henceforth take the place of the German pro-duct throughout Great Britain and her Dominions. Bear in duct throughout Great Britain and her Dominions. Bear in mind that SANAGEN is not something that is "nearly" like Sanatogen or "just about the same," but it is the only product on the market that is exactly the same as Sanatogen by an-alysis. Not only is this true, but after careful laboratory tests were made by the VIROL RESEARCH LABORATORIES, which is recognized as one of the highest authorities in the British Empire, their leading Chemist, Dr. E. Burnett, claims that SANAGEN possesses greater health-building qualities than its German competitor Sanatogen, owing to the more eccentific arrangement of its component parts. scientific arrangement of its component parts.

SANAGEN is not a stimulant, but a genuine body-builder. It will greatly increase your nerve-energy, thus strengthening and invigorating every vital organ of the body, especially when your aystem is fatigued and run down through over-work, worry or illness. Although SANA-GEN has only recently been placed on the local market, the demand for it has been so briek that many dealers are now out of stock. A large shipment is due to arrive within the next few days, when all orders will be failed promptly.

There appears to be a good deal of surprise on the part of the public that there was no debate of the report of the Vancouver election committee. By the rules of the House a report from a select committee if it is to be discussed must be discussed when the motion to receive it is made. The mem-bers of the opposition, and many of those og, the other side as well, thought that debate would take place on the motion to adopt, but few reports ever get that stage. The leader of the opposition expect-ed to speak on motion to adopt and had a bundle of notes ready to do sp and some of the government members also desired to be heard. All were sur-yrations on the report by not having were shut out from making any obser-vations on the report by not having there having any obser-
